THE RESPONSIBILITY OF OUR FAITH

Today is a day simply to ponder the fact that in baptism we were claimed by God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. The first reading from Deuteronomy prompts us to fix in our hearts the truth that God is the Lord of both heaven and earth and there is no other god. Saint Paul reminds us that, because we received the Spirit of adoption in baptism, we are now children of God. In the Gospel Jesus charges us with the responsibility to make other disciples. These realities make today's solemnity a day of praise, adoration, and responsibility. It is a fitting day to thank God for the absolutely free gift of faith that we were given in baptism. It is also a day to ask God for strength to take on the responsibility of sharing that faith with others.

GUIDE US TODAY

Holy Spirit, you who pointed out the way for your disciples to announce the gospel, we pray to you: As in the time of the apostles, guide today's messengers of the Good News.

Bible Study

During the Easter season, we have many readings from the Acts of the Apostles, but we also skip over much of the material contained in this Book of the Bible.

What can you tell others about the early days of the Church?

Do you know that many of our Protestant brothers and sisters moved away from the Catholic Church because they were trying to return to the early church?

Do you know that they did not know the Catholic Church was the early church?

Do you know that the problems of the early church still exist today?

Well if you want to explore these questions, and many more, you can join us in a Bible Study of the Acts of the Apostles, starting on May 23, 2018 at 6 pm in the large classroom.

You will need a New American Bible, Revised Edition (NABRE), preferably the St. Joseph Edition, available at Barnes and Noble in paperback, or from Amazon via the internet.

Questions? Call Deacon Peter at 719-557-0118.
